This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

THE amount of valuable information which is now being placed in the hands of the student of history and genealogy through the medium of the Reports of the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records is so vast, that, to make the fullest use of it, the material requires to be classified and exhaustively indexed. The object therefore, of the present volume has been to collect and index all the Depositions taken by Commission which refer to the Counties of Lancaster and Chester.

A Calendar of these Depositions for the whole of England and Wales, from Elizabeth to George II., is printed in the following Reports of the Deputy Keeper:—xxxviii. Appendix pp. 150-775 (Elizabeth and James I.); xxxix. Appendix pp. 307-531 (Charles I.); xl. Appendix pp. 1-466 (Commonwealth, Charles II. and James II.); xli. Appendix 1-670 (William and Mary, Anne, and George I.); and xlii. Appendix pp. 1-312 (George II.).

From these Reports the matter in this volume has been brought together. Each deposition is given with the regnal year, term and number, the names of the plaintiffs and defendants, a short abstract of its contents, including the principal names and places mentioned, together with the place where the deposition was taken.

The original documents are preserved in portfolios in the Public Record Office, and are mostly written on parchment; each set being filed separately. The entire series extends from the first year of Elizabeth down to the year 1841, when by Statute 5 Victoria, c. 5, the jurisdiction of the Court of Exchequer as a Court of Equity was transferred to the Court of Chancery. No Calendar of the Depositions for the reign of George III. has as yet been printed, but a MS. Calendar, in three volumes, is now placed in the Legal Search Room at the Public Record Office. The remaining Depositions, namely those down to 1841, are in course of being calendared.

As a contrast to the present state and accessibility of these public records, it may be of interest to the antiquary to have a glimpse of their condition about half a century ago. In the Return[1] of Mr. Henry Vincent, the King's Remembrancer, to the Commissioners on Public Records, printed in a folio volume, date 1837,[2] he states:—

> I found that the books and records of the Exchequer, instead of being collected in one solid, substantial, dry, and well-watched building, commodious for reference, and hourly accessible (within certain limits of time) to the public, subject to the control and guardianship of one responsible official individual, who might make himself master of their character and tendencies, and take measures both for their safety and general utility, were scattered in various places and various custodies, at various distances, and with various pretensions. Some were kept by the first Secondary, some by the second, some by the King's Remembrancer himself, at his Chambers. Some were supposed to be in the keeping of individuals, some to be missing altogether, some were at Westminster, some in the Temple, most in places exceedingly ill adapted for their preservation and security, and inaccessible for the most part to the public, without great trouble, difficulty and expense. I found that by far the largest portion of them had, in 1822, been moved from buildings which were to be removed to facilitate the erection of the Courts of Law, without order, without specific authority, without superintendence or care, without any official cognizance that I have been able to trace, or any provision for the service being vigilantly or even honestly performed, into a flimsy erection of deal boards in Westminster Hall, destitute of space or power of arrangement, and, at the time of my first visit to it, dark, damp, and almost pestilential.

Farther on he remarks :—

In 1830 I took advantage of the expected coronation, and the consequent necessity of removing the obnoxious shed from Westminster Hall, again to press earnestly upon the attention of the Treasury the propriety of having that removal conducted with some more attention to authority, order and security than had been exhibited on a former occasion; of taking the opportunity to subject a large portion at least of the buried contents of the slight and wooden sepulchre to some process of purification and arrangement, to enable me to deposit them in some more safe, spacious, and accessible quarter, and to authorise me to incur an expense sufficient to have the service performed under capable and official superintendence of persons responsible for the result. After repeated correspondence and conversations on the subject, I was enabled partially to accomplish that desirable object. By the assistance of Sir Benjamin Stephenson, the then Surveyor General of the Board of Works, I procured to be set apart and prepared for their reception a large and commodious space in the King's Mews; and with the sanction of the Treasury, who referred the selection to me, I appointed Mr. Vanderzee, who had in 1793 been engaged in a similar service, to superintend the transport and arrangement of these records, which five months were barely sufficient to complete; and it is very much owing to the efficient manner in which Mr. Vanderzee, in conjunction with Mr. Adlington, performed the service, that this immense portion of the records are in as good a state as they are, and that those gentlemen have been enabled to make the enclosed communication.

Still, the general evils which affect the condition of these records and their custody remain. A large part are yet unarranged, and by far the major portion of the whole are destitute of proper calendars and indexes.

In his Appendix of Answers to the Commissioners, Mr. Vincent thus alludes to the documents more especially connected with those noticed in the present volume :—

English Informations, Bills, Answers, Depositions and Examinations.

The English Informations are in the name of the Attorney-General for the time being, on behalf of His Majesty, relating to his revenue, and sometimes at the relation of private persons, on account of charities and other public trusts and uses; and the English Bills are other proceedings in equity between subject and subject.

Answers, Depositions, and Examinations are the further proceedings thereon.

Of the English Informations and Bills, entries are made in books called "Bill Books," in counties, containing the number as marked on each English Information and Bill, together with the names of the parties, plaintiffs and defendants. These proceedings are filed by the clerks in court for the plaintiffs, and begin in the first year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and are continued to the present reign and year. They are filed, with the answers and pleadings, in parchment covers, called Forrels, each cover containing formerly one hundred bills, but lately from one to fifty, and from fifty to one hundred; on the outside whereof is endorsed the county, the year of the King's or Queen's reign, and the number of the first information or bill on each file.

The Commissions to examine witnesses and depositions taken thereupon, when returned into Court, are delivered to the junior sworn clerk, who enters in a book, entitled "The Book of the Returns of Commissions," the county, and the names of the plaintiffs and defendants, and the number of schedules annexed to each Commission: and when publication has passed the Commission, and depositions are delivered out by him to be copied, and afterwards they were filed in parchment covers, each cover being endorsed with the terms and years of the King's or Queen's reign in which the depositions therein contained were taken.

Examination of parties and witnesses taken under a decree or order of the Court are, when returned, entered and filed in the same manner as the depositions before mentioned.

But how far these records were available to the record student may be gleaned from the following:—

Neither the Memoranda, English Informations and English Bills, Special Commissions, nor the Orders and Decrees of the Court, have Indexes Locorum, Virorum, et Rerum. It may indeed be stated, that there is a total want of the necessary calendars and indexes to those records which are arranged, and that there are none of any sort which are complete.

Still, there were some rough manuscript guides:—

Of the Special Commissions, and Commissions to examine witnesses, entries are made in parchment books, called Commission Books, of which there are eighteen, commencing in the fifth year of Queen Elizabeth, and continued to the present time. The entries show the county, term, and year in which each commission was returned, and the number of schedules annexed thereto, the names of the parties, plaintiffs and defendants, on whose behalf, and the name of the first Commissioner mentioned in the writ. Some of these books have been newly bound since the year 1800.

But Mr. Vincent's final verdict on their value was hardly encouraging:—

None of these Calendars are correct, nor could they be made so, to be useful to the public as Indexes Virorum, Locorum, et Rerum; and to make such indexes would be a most laborious service after the records are cleaned, repaired, and properly digested and methodized; and to state the time it would require to make such indexes, and the number of hands to be employed, could not be done with the least accuracy until the work has been begun, and considerable progress made in it.

After perusing the foregoing, the antiquary of the present day will more fully appreciate the value of the laborious official work by means of which I have been enabled to prepare for the Record Society a volume which makes a still further advance in saving the labour of the student of our ancient national manuscripts.

The Depositions referred to in this volume abound with curious and useful information, of great value to the legal as well as to the topographical inquirer. When received into the hands of the Master of the Rolls they were, as the extracts given above too plainly show, in a state of great confusion. They have, however, now been brought together from the various boxes, chests, and bags in which they were scattered, sorted into reigns, arranged, dated, ticketed, placed in portfolios, and a great many membranes cleaned and flattened, whilst others have undergone thorough repair.

As might be supposed their contents are of the most varied character. Inter alia, they relate to disputes connected with tithes, fines, rents, customs, distresses for rent due, receipts of import customs on ale, beer, wines, &c.; the duty on salt, malt, &c.; rights of way, inheritance, and common rights; the titles to lands; disputes as to the administration of estates; agreements, bargains, sales, and claims; grants of lands; rights to seats in churches; the values of churches, rectories, and manors; waste and spoil of lands; evasion of dues; sales of public offices; and mortgages, surveys, and boundaries. Amongst minor subjects referred to, are: tanned leather; breach of bargain to repair ships; lovers' "tokens of kindness;" butchers', bakers', grocers', milliners', and other bills; the delivery of Milford oats in lieu of Lancashire oats; lands given "for superstitous uses;" disputes as to the application of the name "common badger;" "notice to conveigh away a priest," when search was made for him; marriages and marriage portions; marriages of apprentices before fulfilment of articles; loss of money bags, and so forth.

The following may be taken as a good example of the kind of information to be derived from a single file of Depositions:—

EXCHEQUER Q.R. DEPOSITIONS, 1657. EASTER, No. 32. LANCASTER.

Commission to Richard Whitehead, Richard Kinge, Thomas Haughton, and Robert Plessington, gentlemen, to examine witnesses upon certain Interrogatories to be exhibited on the behalf of Francis Lowe, Esqre, plaintiff, and Richard Fleetewood, Esqre, Everill Rigby, widow, and Reignald Heber, Esqre, defendants. 2. Do you know what the said manors, &c., are worth by the year, and what profits by shipwrecks, &c., have been made by reason of them, and who received the profits, and for how long.

3. Do you know what estate the defendants have in the said manors, &c., and how long they have been in possession.

4. Did not Cheny Rowe, mentioned in the defendant's answer, about December, 3 Charles I. [1627], assign all his Interest in the Statute of £500, and the Extent, and all his estate and interest therein, to Robert Fleetwood, one of the brothers of the said Sir Paul Fleetwood, and upon what considerations.

5. Did not Robert Fleetwood, in January, 7 Charles I. [1632], assign all his interest in the £500 debt to Cheny Rowe, and also all his interest in a statute merchant of £600 to the defendant Heber and others, and what their names were, and on what consideration.

6. Did not Thomas Gosnall about 23 June, 10 Charles I., assign his Interest in the aforesaid hereditaments by virtue of the lease out of the Exchequer to Josias Heber for £50 in hand and for £20 yearly rent for ten years after the assignment.

7. Do you know the Transcript of the Outlawry against Sir Paul Fleetwood to be a true copy of the same on record in the Court of Exchequer at Westminster.

8. Do you know that Sir Paul Fleetwood is alive.

9. What other matter can you declare.

Depositions taken at Garstange, co. Lanc., on Thursday, 9 April, 1657, before the said Commissioners.

William Fyfe, of Weddicarr, co. Lanc., doctor in physic, aged about 42.

1. Says he knows the hall of Hackensall, the corn windmill in Prisall, and the demesne lands belonging to the hall containing about 150 acres; and 200 acres in lease to several persons, some for 3 lives and others for 21 years; and the rents payable by the tenants are £20 a year and upwards, besides boons and services, and that the demesne lands and mill are worth £80 a year besides taxes. And that he dare give so much yearly to be tenant thereof for 7 years. He has known the estate for 9 years and more, which has been possessed by Richard Fleetwood, Esqre, or his assigns during that time, believes the yearly value to Fleetwood is £100 for the last 7 years.

John Moore, formerly examined on the deft's. part, and now on the plaintiff's.

2. Has heard that the fines of several tenements in Prisall and Hackensall about 10 years ago were assigned to Mr Robert Shawe, Minister at Cockerham, for his wife's portion, who was one of the daughters of Sir Paul Fleetwood, by Sir Paul Fleetwood or Mr Edmund Fleetwood, his son, and Shawe received the fines, by virtue of which assignment deponent paid to Shawe £4 for a house and garden as a fine for a lease for 21 years. Says he has received rents for the last 3 years amounting to 20 marks and upwards, which he has paid over to the defendant Richard Fleetwood, as part of the rents for lands in possession of his tenants.

8 and 9. Has heard within the last 3 days that Sir Paul Fleetwood was living, and he saw him about half a year ago.

Mary Jones, of Prisoe, co. Lanc., widow, aged 40 years and more.

2. Says that about Candlemas, three years ago, she compounded with Richard Fleetwood for a lease of a tenement in Prisoe now in her possession for 21 years, and the fine agreed on was £84, of which she has paid £66. 10s., and given security for the remainder, and also pays 26s. a year for the same and certain boons (specified).

James Clarkson, of Prisoe, husbandman, aged about 38.

2. Says that about Midsummer last he agreed with Richard Fleetwood for a messuage and Tenement in Prisoe cont^s about 14 acres for 7 years, and then for the life of himself and his wife and the longer liver of them, paying £56. 13s. 4d. fine, also 14s. yearly rent and boons (specified).

Robert Poole, of Prisoe, mariner, aged about 50.

2. Says that about 12 years ago Edmund Fleetwood assigned to Robert Shawe, Minister at Cokerham (who married Mary, a daughter of Sir Paul Fleetwood), the fines of 6 tenements in Prisoe in part of her portion. One of the tenements is in his own possession, one of Richard Hoole's, one of Edward Diccon-son's, one of Gabriel Croft's, one of Richard Tompson's, and one of John Cowban's. The fine for his own tenement was £40, which he paid to Shawe by the direction of Richard Fleetwood and Reignald Heber. Had afterwards a lease of his tenement sealed by Fleetwood for 21 years, and Sir Paul Fleetwood and Heber gave him bond for the same. Payeth yearly 13s. 4d. to Richard Fleetwood and boons (specified).

Richard Smyth, of Stalmyn, co. Lanc., gent., aged about 64.

1. Says that Richard Fleetwood has been in possession of Hackonsall for about 4 years, and that by lease from Edmund Fleetwood, deceased, brother of Richard Fleetwood, the deft., made about 20 years ago, he holds a tenement in Stalmyn for 3 lives, and paid to Edmund Fleetwood £35 fine, and pays a yearly rent of 10s. 6d. to Richard Fleetwood for the same, and boons.

John Hodson, of Thornton, co. Lanc., yeoman, aged about 39.

1. Says he knows the hall of Rossall and the lands belonging to it in possession of the defendant Mrs Rigby.

Rowland Anyon, of Thornton, co. Lanc., gent., aged about 60.

1. Says he knows the hall of Rossall and part of the demesne lands, containing upwards of 200 acres of land, meadow and pasture, and knows 2 windmills in Norbrecke and Layton, and Edmund Fleetwood, late husband to the defendant Everill, who died about 10 years ago, received the profits, and Everill and Reginald Heber received the profits since his death, and they are worth yearly about £80, but he does not know the value of the windmills, nor in whose possession they are.

Robert Jolly, of Layton, gent., aged about 45.

1. Says he knows Rossall hall and the hall of Hackensall, and that he pays yearly to deft. Everill on behalf of Henry Walsh 2s. and a day's shearing or 4d. in silver, and that he knows the 2 windmills in Layton and Norbreck, and hath heard that they are possessed by Mrs Rigby and Mr Heber.

2. Says that for some years past there has been wreck cast up on the land belonging to Rossall. Hath heard that Mrs Rigby had some wreck, and that Sir Paul Fleetwood received money of the deft Richard.

Richard Newsham, formerly examined on the deft's part, and now on the plaintiff's part.

1. Says he knows Rossall hall and the demesne lands belonging, and believes they contain about 300 acres, and also knows Hackensall hall and the demesne lands possessed by deft Fleetwood, and that there are several tenements in Great Layton and Norbreck; and hath heard that his, this deponent's, father in law, Mr Edmund Fleetwood, and grandfather to the deft Mr Fleetwood, was reputed lord thereof; and that he knoweth land in Great Marton, Gt. Bispham, and little Bispham reputed to belong to Edmund Fleetwood; and hath heard that for Layton and Norbrecke there has been kept at Norbrecke a Court and Juries called; and that he knew lands and tenements in Tildesley, Little Hulton, and Worsley, in the possession of his father in law aforesaid, and after whose death they were possessed by Sir Paul Fleetwood, and heard that Sir Paul Fleetwood sold them about 35 years ago; and that he knows two windmills in Prisall and Norbrecke; and that Rossall and the lands belonging to it was enjoyed after the death of Edmund Fleetwood by Edmund's wife, and after her death by Sir Paul Fleetwood, Edmund Fleetwood, and Robert Fleetwood, brothers of Sir Paul; and that Robert Fleetwood passed the moiety of the lands at Rossall to the deft Mr Heber for £600, and his brother Edmund enjoyed the other moiety at Rossall for 16 years; and afterwards Edmund Fleetwood, deceased, late husband to deft Everill, enjoyed part of the land belonging to Rossall, and since his death and the expiration of the 16 years (being about 8 years ago) the lands at Rossall have been enjoyed by Mr Heber. Hackensall hall and the lands belonging to it was in possession of Sir Paul Fleetwood, and afterwards the lands were enjoyed by defr Richard Fleetwood by agreement with Mr Heber.

2. Several leases were made by Edmund Fleetwood, deceased, of part of the lands belonging and enjoyed with Rossall.

8. About 3 months ago he saw Sir Paul Fleetwood.

John Davis, of Little Bispham, husbandman, aged about 79.

1. Knows Rossall hall and the demesne lands containing about 300 acres, and has known them for 60 years. Edmund Fleetwood, father of Sir Paul Fleetwood, and the wife of the said Edmund, enjoyed them for 30 years, and Edmund died about 32 years ago, and after his death his wife enjoyed it about 4 years; after her death it was enjoyed by Robert Fleetwood and Edmund Fleetwood, brothers of Sir Paul; after them it was enjoyed by Edmund Fleetwood, son of Sir Paul, who died possessed about 12 years ago, and since Edmund's death they were possessed by Everill or Reginald Heber, or one of them as he believes.

John Hull, of Lytham, yeoman, aged about 53.

1. Believes the hall of Rossall and the demesne lands to contain 1000 acres, knows the cony warren, and the 2 windmills and tenements in Little Bispham, Norbrecke, and Gt. Marton, and that they have belonged to the Fleetwoods for 30 years, and since Edmund Fleetwood's death they have been possessed by Everill and Mr Heber. Believes the clear yearly value to be £220, and he will give £20 a year for the cony warren, and believes that Mrs Rigby and Mrs Heber and others have received £220 yearly for all the aforesaid property.

Edmund Bamber, of Much Carleton, husbandman, aged about 60.

1. Says the hall of Rossall and the demesne lands are about 1000 acres. The windmill at Bispham was built by Edmd Fleetwood, husband of Everill, about 16 years ago. And that Rossall hall and all its demesne lands, &c., have been worth £240 a year for 20 years, and are now worth £250. Says that Hackensall hall, with its demesne lands, may contain 60 acres, and there are 12 messuages in Hackensall, Prisoe, Stalmyn, and Staynoe, belonging to Hackensall hall; also a windmill in Prisall; all of which have been for 40 years enjoyed by Sir Paul Fleetwood and the now def^t Richard Fleetwood, Esqre, and that they have been worth £50 a year during the last 40 years.

John Taylor, of Hackensall, yeoman, aged about 60.

1. Says the demesne of Hackensall contains between 100 and 120 acres. Says the rents of the 12 tenements are about £12 a year, and that def^t Fleetwood receives the same. Says that Hackensall hall and the demesne lands are let at £60 a year, and his father in law for some years was farmer of part of the same, but left because he thought it too dear. Says that Hackensall was possessed by the def^t Richard Fleetwood and his assigns for the past 9 years, and for the previous 20 years by Sir Paul Fleetwood or his then lady or their assigns.

James Bennet, of Euxton, yeoman, aged about 68.

1. Has known Rossall Hall for 38 years, which then contained about 1100 acres, but by reason of waste by the sea contains now about 1000 acres. Believes the def^t Everill has been in possession since her husband's death, and that she has mostly lived at Rossall hall.

John Farneworth, of Grays Inn, Middx., gent., aged about 30.

Says he has seen a paper copy purporting to be an outlawry against Sir Paul Fleetwood, and examined it with the original record.

Interrogatories to be administered on behalf of the def^ts.

1. Whether you know the Compl^t and Def^ts, and whether you know Sir Paul Fleetwood.

2. Whether you know Rossall Grange in Thornton, &c., &c.

3. What loss since the entry of Everill Rigby and Reginald Heber into Rossall Grange by the overflow of the sea and fresh water floods, &c., &c.

4. Whether you know Hackensall hall, &c., &c.

5. What loss has Richard Fleetwood sustained by the overflowing of the sea at Hackensall, &c., &c.

6. Whether the writing dated 16 February, 11 James I., in the nature of a statute staple of the penalty of £400, mentioned to be entered into by Sir Paul Fleetwood, by the name of Paul Fleetwood of Rossall, Gent., unto Sir Francis Chenye of Dryton Beacham, co. Buckingham, knight, and payable on the feast day next ensuing is a true copy.

7. Whether a writing purporting to be a copy of a writ prosecuted by Francis Cheney, Esq., and of an Inquisition taken at Preston in Amunderness, on or about 11 January, 20 James I., of property whereof Sir Paul Fleetwood was seised, as also of the king's writ of liberate, by virtue whereof the property was delivered in execution to Francis Cheney, Esqre, is a true copy.

8. Say what you know concerning an Indenture dated on or about 15 Nov^{r}, 2 Charles I., between Francis Cheney of Chesham Boyes, co. Bucks, Esqre, executor of Francis Cheney, late of Drayton Beacham, knight, deceased, of the one part, and Edmund Fleetwood and Robert Fleetwood of Rossall, gent., and John Browne of Tringe, co. Hertford, gent., of the other part, and who were the witnesses.

9. Whether a writing dated 18 Nov^{r}, 14 James I., purporting to be a copy of a recognisance for £500, entered into by Sir Paul Fleetwood, by the name of Paul Fleetwood of Hackensall, gent., unto one Cheney Rowe, of Trinity College, Cambridge, D.D., is a true copy.

10. Whether a certain writing, purporting to be a copy of writs of extent, prosecuted by Cheney Rowe for extending the lands of Sir Paul Fleetwood, by virtue whereof the lands, &c., were delivered to Cheney Rowe, is a true copy.

11. Say what you know concerning an Indenture dated 3 July, 1652, made between Cheney Rowe, of the one part, and Reginald Heber, by the name of Reginald Heber, of Rossall, gent., and George Heber, of Garsdale, co. York, gent., of the other part.

12. Whether the writing (recognizance), dated 6 December, 20 James I., entered into by Sir Paul Fleetwood and others unto one Jane Meredith, widow, who afterwards married Sir Peter Witch, knight, by reason of which £400 became due to Sir Peter Witch and the said Jane, is a true copy.

13. Whether a writing dated on or about 13 February, 7 Charles I., purporting to be a copy of a writ directed to Henry Pratt and Samuel Cranmer, Sheriffs of London, for seizing into the king's hands the aforesaid recognizance and the £400 contained in the same, is a true copy.

14. Whether the Recognisance dated on or about 29 February, 2 Charles I., wherein Sir Peter Witch became bound to Francis Cottington by the name of Francis Cottington, Baronet, and Roger Palmer, knight of the Bath, in £10,000, is a true copy.

33. How much money has Reginald Heber paid in compounding statutes, &c., wherewith Sir Paul Fleetwood made liable to satisfaction the lands now possessed by Everill Rigbye, Richard Fleetwood, and Reginald Heber.

34. Were not several judgments, &c., passed by Sir Paul Fleetwood, by virtue whereof his lands in Thornton, Little Bispam, Great Layton, and Great Marton, now held by Everill Rigby and Reginald Heber, were extended and not discharged till about 11 years ago, so that the def^ts^ could not obtain possession.

35. Whether Everill Rigby and Reginald Heber have ever had possession of the messuage and lands now held by Richard Fleetwood, in Hackensall, Preesoe, Stalmyne, Staynoe, Greenaghe, and Little Singleton, or received any rents except the yearly rent of £13. 6s. 8d., which Reginald Heber has received for 5 years from Richard Fleetwood.

36. Say what you know concerning an Indenture dated 17th February, 14 James I. [1617], between Sir Paul Fleetwood, named Paul Fleetwood, of Hackensall, gent., of the one part, and Christian Fleetwood of the other part.

37. What other things do you know.

On the part of the def^ts^.

John More, of Preesoe, yeoman, aged about 54.

1. Says he has known all the def^ts^ for 12 years, but does not know the plaintiff. Has known Sir Paul Fleetwood for 30 years.

4. Knows the property possessed by Richard Fleetwood, and believes that he has received very little clear profit.

5. Says that Richard Fleetwood has had great loss by the overflow of the sea.

Richard Smith, of Stalmyn, gent., previously sworn on the plaintiff's part.

4 and 5. Says that it is only 4 years since Richard Fleetwood entered into possession of the premises, and hath heard that he pays money yearly to his father Sir Paul Fleetwood. Richard Fleetwood has been a loser by reason of his building up Hackensall Hall, which was fallen down and ruined.

Robert Poole, of Preesoe, already sworn on the pl^{ts} part.

4 and 5. Says that Richard Fleetwood has taken the rents for over 8 years, and that Sir Paul Fleetwood receives £60 for Rossall and Hackensall, and believes that £20 is for Hackensall, and says that Mr Francis Fleetwood,, younger brother of the def^{t}, receives £10 a year for Hackensall.

Richard Newsam, of Forton, gent., aged about 67.

4 and 5. Says he believes that Richard Fleetwood has lost over £300 since his entry into the premises, by reason of various repairs, and by the payment of £30 a year to Mr Mayo, of London.

32. Says the Indenture was executed by Sir Paul Fleetwood, and that he (Richard Newsam) was a witness to the same.

Henry Sudell, of Alston, yeoman, aged about 24.

32. Says the Indenture was sealed, signed, and delivered by Bridget Fleetwood and Dorothy Fleetwood to John Mayo, in the presence of William Langton, of Preston, Esq., Henry Atherton, of the same, gent., and of him, this deponent, who were all witnesses.

Robert Gaulther, of Norbrecke, husbandman, servant to Reginald Heber, aged about 60.

2. Says he knows the property therein specified, and that Everill and Reginald Heber entered into a moiety about 11 years ago, but did not enter into the other moiety till the end of the term granted to Edmund Fleetwood, brother to Sir Paul Fleetwood, about 6 years ago.

3. Says that Everill Rigby and Reginald Heber lost 400 sheep at Rossall, and about 7 or 8 years ago lost 500 sheep at Rossall, and other losses by the overflow of the sea.

John Salthouse, of the houlmes in Thornton, husbandman, servant to Reginald Heber, aged about 68 years.

2 and 3. Says the defendants Rigby and Heber lost £30 by the overflow of the sea last year.

William Hodgson, of the holmes, husbandman, aged about 30.

2 and 3. Says the defendants lost 54 beasts and 11 horses about 4 years ago by the overflow of the sea.

John Taylor, of Hackensall, already sworn on the pl$^{t's}$ part.

5. Says that Richard Fleetwood sustained losses by the overflow of the sea since he possessed Hackensall hall; also in his possession of Preesoe windmill by reason of seizures, so that the customers did not come there to have their corn ground.

Thomas Noblett, of Rossall, yeoman, aged about 26 years, servant to Mrs Rigby.

3. Says the def^{ts} lost cattle at Rossall about 6 years ago by the overflow of the sea, and have paid about £9. 18s. in building up Layton windmill, and in building up sea banks.

Lanc., gent., deceased, of the one part, and Reynold Heber, of Rossall, gent., and George Heber, of Grass Dayle, co. York, gent., of the other part.

5. What charges has Reynold Heber been put to within 11 years by reason of incumbrances made by Sir Paul Fleetwood, late of Rossall, on the lands of the defendants.

6. What losses have Everill Rigby and Reynold Heber sustained on their lands at Rossall grange or elsewhere by the overflow of the sea.

7. What other matter do you know.

Depositions taken at the Rose and Crown, in Tring, co. Hertford, on 30 May, 1657.

Thomas Norman, of Tring, gent., aged about 43.

4. Says he ingrossed the Indenture, and was a witness to the signing of it by Edward Fleetwood.

Daniel Bate, of Tring, yeoman, aged about 60.

1. Has known Richard Fleetwood 7 years, and Reynold Heber 5 years.

4. Witnessed the Indenture, and that it was sealed by Edward Fleetwood for £60.

Naariah Cooke, of Tring, mercer, aged over 40.

1. Has known Richard Fleetwood and Reynold Heber more than 16 years.

5. Says that Richard Fleetwood and Reynold Heber have paid £100 to Mrs Catesby, and Reynold Heber has paid to him (N. C.) £119, and Richard Fleetwood and Reynold Heber have paid over £100 to Dr Cheney Rowe, all within 11 years past, and also heard that £500 more, have been expended to free the lands from incumbrance.

Mary Fleetwood, wife of Edward Fleetwood, of Drayton Beauchamp, clerk, aged about 50.

1. Has known the def^ts^ about 20 years.

5. Received of R. Heber £60 paid within these 9 years; has heard her brother-in-law, Robert Fleetwood, say he received £500 from the def^ts^; believes the def^ts^ have spent £500 more, all in clearing the lands from incumbrance.

6. Some of the premises have been totally lost, and never recovered, by the overflow of the sea, and believes the cattle lost amounted to £200 in half a year.

John Rotherham, of Tring, Esqre, aged about 26.

1. Has known the plaintiff 4 years and the def^ts^ 7 years.

2. Saw the deed signed by Cheney Rowe for £60, to be paid to Cheney Rowe by Reynold Heber, and believes other sums have been paid by Reynold Heber to Cheney Rowe.

3. Says the deed was signed by Nicholas King for £400, paid by R. Heber, as he believes, to the Executors of Sir Thomas Lucy, & deponent has received £100 from def^t^, which he paid to Mrs Ellinor Catesby, and Mrs Catesby confessed to def^t^ about 2 years ago that £400 had been paid for the extent, and the deed was delivered by N. King to R. Heber, who paid the £100 about 6 years ago.

5. Believes R. Heber spent over £1000 in discharging incumbrances on the lands of Sir P. Fleetwood, late of Rossall, possessed by def^ts^, and says that R. Heber spent about £200 in law suits concerning the same.

(Endorsed) Delivered by Richard Dagnall, gent., 9 June, 1657, before me, Robert Nicholas.

To close these introductory remarks, I would remind those who may find entries of interest in the ensuing pages that all such entries can be considerably developed by consulting the originals; and when so doing they should not fail to trace out by means of the "Bill Books" (Exch. Q.R.) the Bill and Answer bearing on the particular suit, and then, in order to ascertain the result of the proceedings, the various series of volumes of Decrees and Orders of the same Court must be consulted.

In preparing this Calendar, I have acted on a hint given by Mr. Walford D. Selby (of H.M. Public Record Office) in his Lancashire and Cheshire Records,[1] and to him I must acknowledge my obligation for kind advice during the progress of my work.
